

Independent Mental Capacity Act Advocacy (IMCA)

The IMCA service is a statutory service created under the Mental Capacity Act 2005 to provide safeguards for adults who lack capacity to make certain decisions.

What would an IMCA do?

Independent Mental Capacity Advocacy (IMCA)

- We make sure your feeling, wishes, beliefs and values are heard.
- We represent your views and interests to the people making the decisions.
- We also make sure decisions that are being made are in line with the mental capacity act.
